It is my pleasure to act as a reference for Dom Foulsham. He has been an Adjunct Professor within the Digital Media faculty at Northeastern University for the past year, teaching several classes in film and video topics. He has displayed an encyclopedic knowledge of all aspects of digital video, from the narrative and visual to all aspects of the technology, from video lighting and shooting to editing.

Dom has improved our program by consulting with us in purchases, doing research on materials and on sourcing. He has mentored several students, and has the unquestioned respect and admiration of the student body.

The materials he has developed as educational tools are unparalleled elsewhere, including at sites supported by publishers and academic institutions.

As the Academic Director the program, I have come to rely on him for his professional expertise and his creative intelligence, and can recommend him for any position in his area without reservation.

Please feel free to contact me directly with any questions.
